Becky,
I hope you have a wonderful summer. Good luck next year when you are a senior and good luck in your future in all you do. It's really been great knowing you this year and I hope I will see you this summer and next year. Maybe we will be in a class together next year.

Remember History!
E Paulo
...For they shall inherit the earth...

Ours is a time of awareness a time to grasp and learn all that we can before we begin.

Children, wake up!
With eyes closed we cannot see to rid ourselves of useless dreams and make good of those that can succeed.

Child, take your life,
Burn it like a candle,
as if it was the only ray
to light our people's path.
Burn it slowly, carefully, reverently.
Brothers, Sisters—appreciate each light,
And you'll understand the meaning and the luxury of sight.

And if we do Perhaps all warring nations will stop in realization that the coming of our birth has brought a peaceful nation
And we shall inherit the earth.

And as we move, we wait,
Wait for the moment when we become a fulfilled people.
All men,
All women,
With a light of our own,
a time of our own; a gift to someday bequeath
to our own.

And the creation of our own;
the beginning of their birth,
Will bring a dayglow nation
And they shall inherit the earth.

ACCEPT MY FULL HEART'S THANKS

Your words come just when needed.
Like a breeze
Blowing and bringing from the wide soft sea
Some cooling spray, to meadow scorched with heat
And choked with dust and clouds
of sifted sand
That hateful whirlwinds, envious
of its bloom
Had tossed upon it. But the cool sea breeze
Came laden with the odors of the sea
And damp with spray, that laid
the dust and sand,
And brought new life and strength
to blade and bloom,

So words of thine came over
miles to me,
Fresh from the mighty sea, a
true friend's heart,
And brought me hope, strength,
and swept away
The dusty webs that human spiders spun Across my path. Friend—and the word means much—
So few there are who reach
like thee, a hand
Up over all the barking curs of spite
And give the clasp, when most its need is felt,
Friend, newly found, accept my full heart's thanks.

President's Message

Wheww! The four year haul is over for us, and high school is a thing of the past. Now what? Work? Yes. College? Yes, but most importantly, the inheritance of an entire earth. That's right, it's yours, it's mine, it's ours. We either make it or break it.

We can't afford to take our newly uncovered responsibilities lightly. We have to strive to make a world in which to live, and you can do it. Oh I won't kid myself, it's not that we haven't had our problems. I've seen unity, I've seen splits. I've seen momentous success for us, but also a few minor defeats, yet throughout all, I've seen a genuine desire to be on the "top" in everything. Perhaps when folk of the older generations tell me it's our youth, they're correct. But I'd like to think they're wrong. Prove it not only to them, that they're mistaken, but prove it to yourself simply by striving to the peak of your potential all your life. If this is done and I quote, "Yours will be the earth, and everything that's in it."

With all my heart I thank you, for giving me the chance to work for some five hundred of the finest people a guy could ever hope to know.

The family affair of period 4 Biology class: Taves, Gutter Gums, Pipes, Scrufty, Bob-o-link.

By giving of my special gift, having found the capacity to love, my reason for being is defined.

One day all the stars and the oceans will shine and all the special things that you've always wanted for your own will be gathered together and you'll be at peace with yourself.

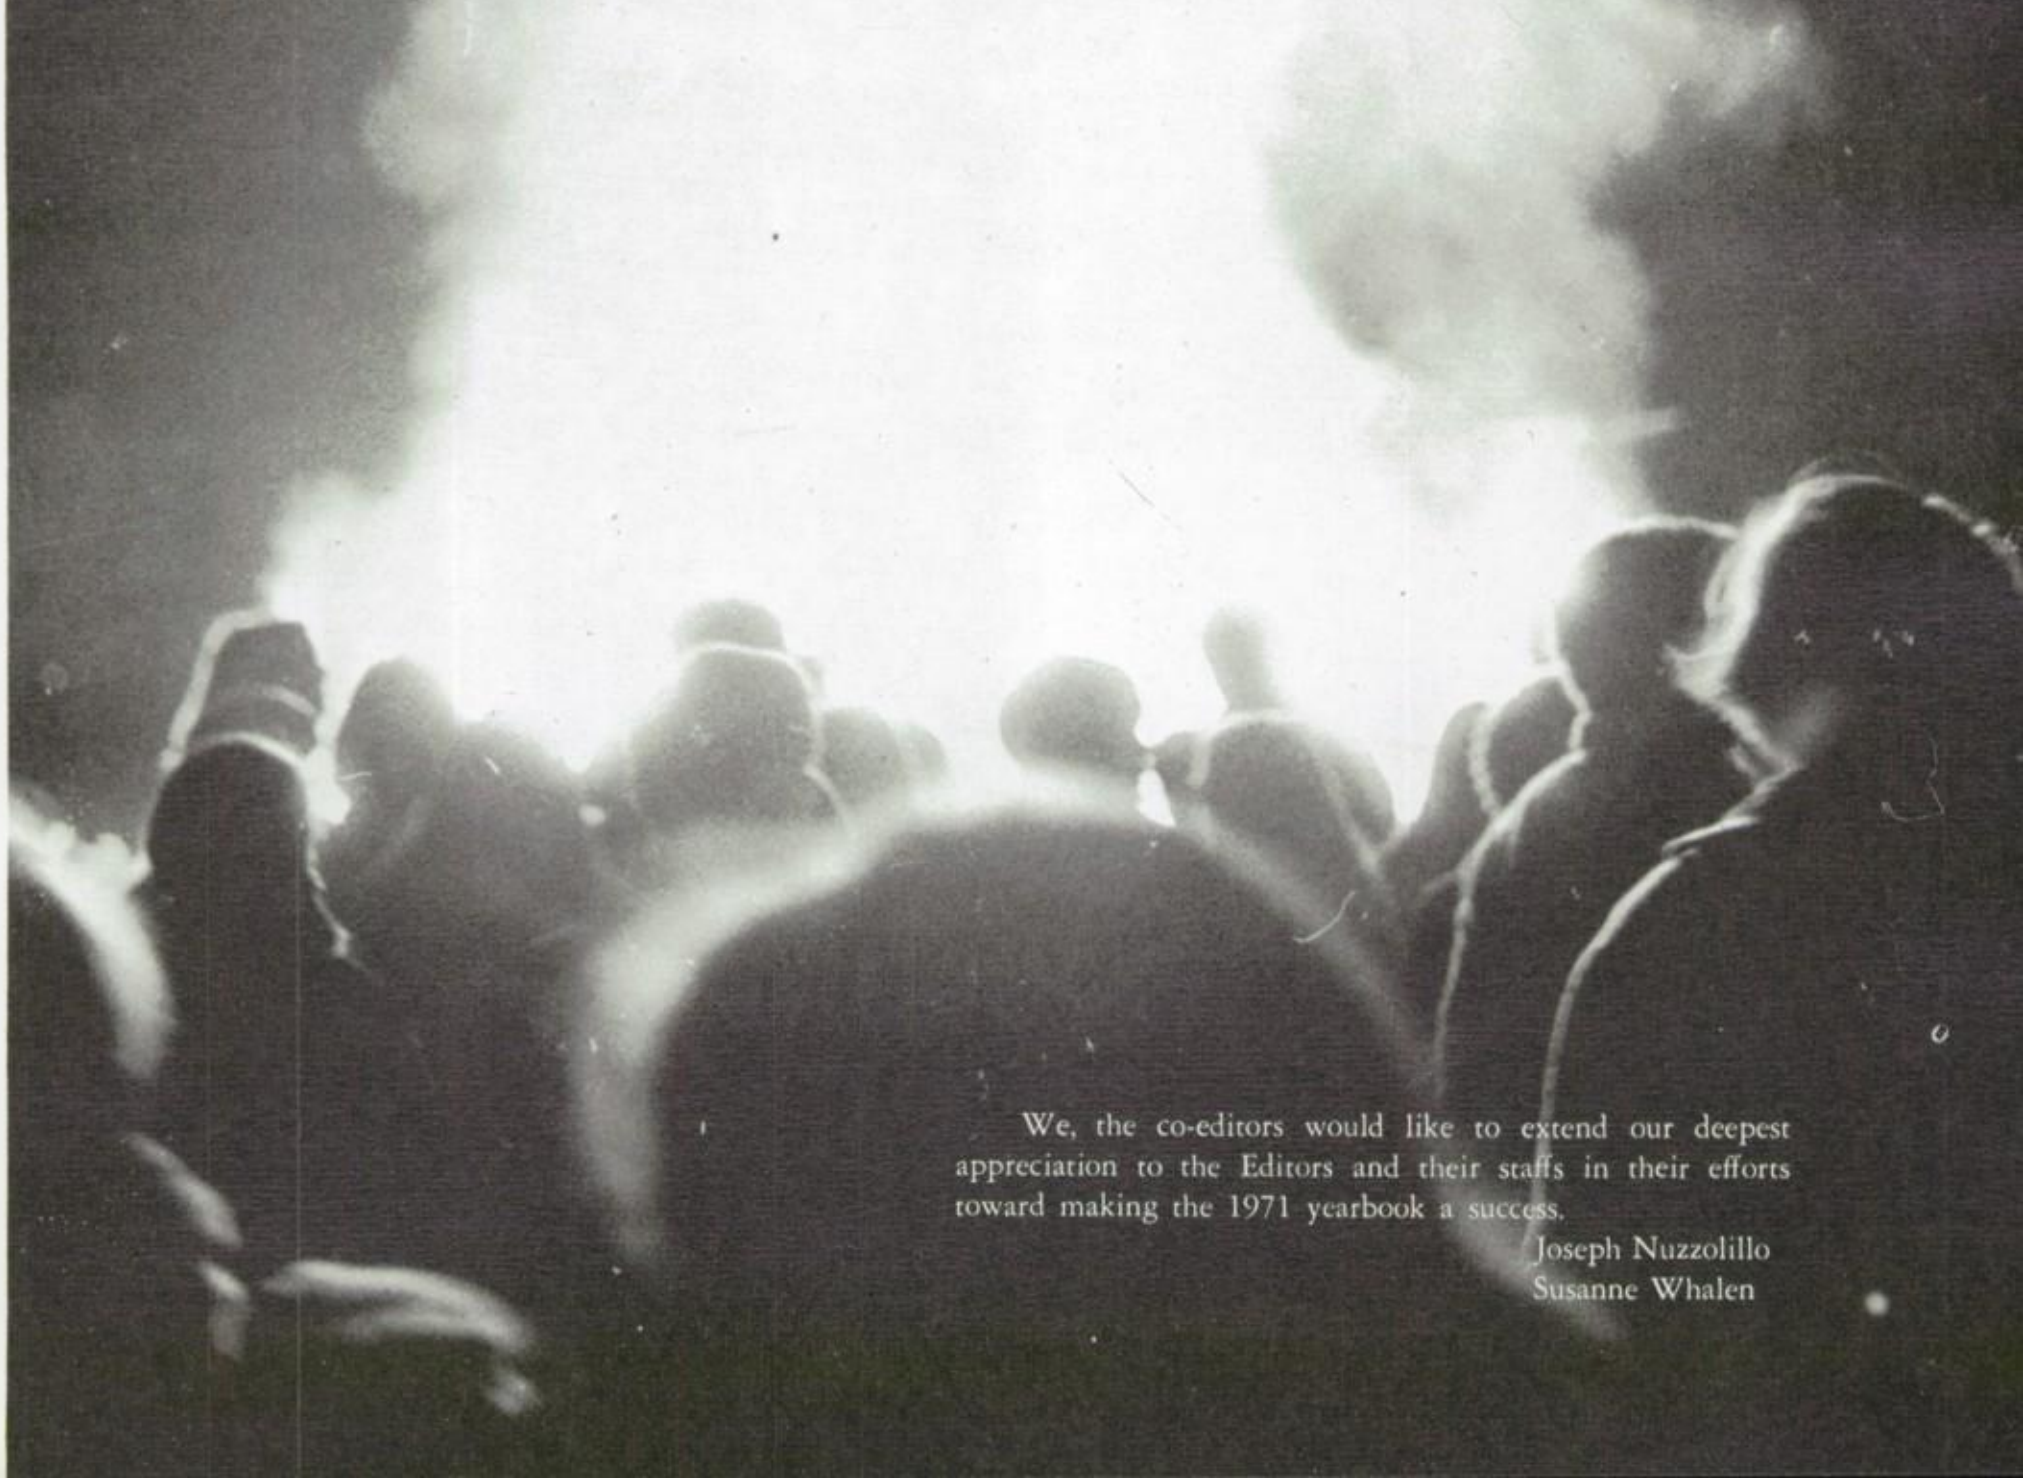
One day all things that have stood in the way will step aside and you'll be able to walk naked, unafraid and unashamed into the mountains and through the fields and waterways will purify you and you'll be contented with yourself.

One day all fear will vanish as the sun casts away the shadows and illusion and unreality will be mere words to speak but not feel and you will believe in yourself and you will feel sure of yourself.

When a man can feel these things and understand, he then reaches out for a mate, he doesn't put her above him to idolize her, nor does he put her below him to carpet his feet or enslave her; man puts his mate beside him under his wing to treat as an equal, to protect, to guide, and to seek comfort from her, and together they walk the roads of life hand in hand sharing life's ways.

From this union man and his mate bring about love and from this unboundrious love comes life, and man teaches his offspring of the beauty and sets him on his way to learn the things that one man cannot give to another, things that must come from within oneself and after all these things man turns upward to the sky and says "I HAVE LIVED."

K.S.



We, the co-editors would like to extend our deepest appreciation to the Editors and their staffs in their efforts toward making the 1971 yearbook a success.
